Community Enterprise...Government Loan...Contractor To Build The Homes Would Solve Coleman's Housing Problem

—So Says R.G. Lillie

Suggests Either Joint Loan Plan Or Integrated Housing Plan As Best To Adopt In Seeking Solution To Acute Housing Shortage Here.

Sponsored by Coleman Board of Trade Mr. R. G. Lillie, of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Calgary office, visited Coleman on Thursday evening to address a public meeting on housing and advise how best Coleman's acute housing shortage problem could be met. The meeting was held in the banquet room of the Grand Union hotel with Board chairman Percy Dickenson presiding.

Mr. Lillie opened his address by stating houses could be built either under the Wartime Housing Act or by the National Housing Act. He stated that the Wartime Housing Act was designed for a community such as Coleman, which was too small. He used Calgary as an example, a city where there were many returned veterans, a number of whom were forced to reside with their families in sub-standard living accommodation such as old shacks, unsanitary basements, etc.

He stated they would be extremely expensive to build in a Lending Value of Required Maximum Property Equity Loan 4,000 400 3,600 5,000 700 4,300 6,000 1,000 5,000

The interest charge on the loan, which is included in the monthly payments, is approximately 4 1/2%. In addition to the monthly payments the borrower takes care of municipal taxes, depreciation and repairs, etc.

The integrated Housing plan means that the Corporation would loan a contractor money to build five housing units or more to sell at a price stipulated by the Corporation. In addition to the loan the contractor would receive priority on material. The Corporation had made it a policy of pricing these homes under market price. Should the contractor fail to sell the homes the Corporation guaranteed him a sale. The Corporation would guarantee the contractor no profit but the financial arrangements were such that the contractor would never go broke. Upon the purchase of one of these homes the purchaser, should he purchase on terms, agrees to take over the N.H.A. mortgage.

During the course of discussion Mr. Lillie stated that the N.H.A. would loan money, approximately 3 1/2% interest charge, to a company with which to build low rental homes for its employees. The rental set for these homes had first to meet the approval of the Corporation. The third plan was Speculative Rental Housing. Under this plan the Corporation loaned the contractor 80% of the appraised value. Once the homes were ready for occupancy the contractor rented the homes at a figure he thought fair.

Another point Mr. Lillie dealt with was Capital. Here money was loaned to construct apartment houses and duplex homes. The terms could be spread over small community, citing the administrative costs to be as high for 25 homes as it would be for 300 similar homes. The monthly payments would be recognized in the small community as low rental homes although they would be recognized as such in the city, thus the purpose of the W.T.H. to create low rental homes would be defeated.

Mr. Lillie thought the National Housing Act could solve the local problem. He listed it in three parts: 1. Joint loans; 2. Integrated Housing Plan; 3. Speculative Rental Housing.

By joint loans a prospective builder could make application to the N.H.A. for a loan up to 85% of the lending value. The builder would have to furnish the balance. Following is a chart to show how the Joint Loan plan works:

Monthly Payments of Interest and Principal for loans of Various Terms.
15 yrs.	20 yrs.	25 yrs.
27.47	22.69	19.92
32.81	27.11	23.80
38.15	32.52	27.68

thirty years thus insuring a basic return on the homes. The speaker thought that the local problem could be solved by community enterprise, the finding of a contractor to construct the homes, and government loan.

A 4,500 home he described as having four rooms, bathroom, basement and minus all frills. At the meeting were company officials and Mayor Abbotsford and councillors Ramsay and Jenkins.

During the discussion Mayor Abbotsford was asked if the council would be willing to extend light and water services outside the edges of the incorporated area if asked to do so in order to encourage home building. He replied that he was not in a position to answer the question with authority. He stated that the council has been open to suggestions to extend service but could not entertain the idea of servicing homes outside the town if the expense involved amounted to several hundreds of dollars and no appreciable return could be expected for many years. He added the Coleman Light and Water Co. was already at grips with builders who built too far away from the water mains and service to them was most unprofitable.

General Manager J. J. McIntyre stated that should homes be constructed in Carbondale his company would service them light and water. It was agreed that the Board of Trade committee on Housing attend a council meeting in the near future and discuss the problem in detail in an effort to reach some concrete understanding which might encourage building in the community.

Burmis Lake Claimed Lives Two Bellevue Students

Two Bellevue school boys were drowned at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in Burmis Lake.

They are Richard Cardle, 13 years, son of Mrs. A. Cardle; and Gino Sorientino, about 13, only son of Mrs. G. M. Giacacazzi. The bodies were recovered by older members of the party.

It appears that the two boys, members of a school picnic party, went out on the lake in a raft. Others in the party saw the raft overturn in the water and the boys disappear in the lake. Every effort was made to assist them and they were brought to the shore.

Dr. S. E. Epstein, of Bellevue, was called and applied artificial respiration but to no avail. Coroner Donald McPherson held an inquest into the deaths on Tuesday night.

$197 Subscribed To B.C. Flood Relief Fund

Money Will Be Sent to British Columbia to Help Rehabilitate Flood Victims

Mr. Percy Dickenson, chairman of the Lions committee supervising a one day drive to secure money with which to help rehabilitate flood victims in the B.C. Kootenays and Fraser Valley, announced on Monday morning that the grand sum of $197.41 had been raised on Saturday through the sale of tags.

The local campaign was the result of a circular letter received from the Lions Club in Haney, B.C. in the Fraser Valley, depicting the scene of disaster in the Fraser Valley. Haney Lions club invited Lions Clubs throughout Canada to send contributions into the British Columbia Flood Emergency Fund and Coleman Lions club accepted the invitation.

The money will be sent to the Emergency Fund in care of the Haney Lions Club. Coleman Lions club wishes to thank Mrs. Duncanson and the young canvassers for their aid and to the public generally for responding so ably to this appeal.

Mr. And Mrs. Wm. Bennett Leaving Coleman

To Leave On Saturday To Reside On Farm Near Lundbreck; Have Resided in Coleman Eleven Years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bennett and son Howard are preparing to leave their Carbondale home on Saturday to take up residence at the farm two miles north of Lundbreck where they own a section of land.

It is eleven years since they first came to Coleman Mr. Bennett securing employment with Coleman Light & Water Co. and working under the supervision of the late Steve Danyluk. Following Mr. Danyluk's death Mr. Bennett was appointed foreman of the system and during the years became very well known to the citizens as he made his monthly rounds reading the light meters.

Since the town of Coleman absorbed the system Mr. Bennett was transferred to the light system in East Coleman and Graftontown which is still controlled by International.

He is a member of the Cowley Masonic lodge and attended Summit lodge during his residence here. Mrs. Bennett has confined her activities to her home.

Howard has attended the local public and high schools and is a product of the Pee Wee hockey league and has graduated to juvenile ranks.

During the spring they cultivated a portion of their land. The farm is equipped with much machinery and the two men hope to soon get it back into shape. Mrs. Bennett is more concerned over the flower garden which is nearby the home and hopes to get it weeded just as soon as she is free to give it her wholehearted attention.

William Milley Has Brilliant University Record

Has Passed Subjects in Faculty of Applied Science with First Class Honors During First Three Years.

William H. Milley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Milley, is building for himself a very enviable and unique record at the University of Alberta as he strives for his degree in science. Bill, as he is more commonly known, has been at the university having graduated from Coleman high school.

The Gateway, official publication of the university, in its June 15 issue carries the names of all students passing subjects with first class honors. In the department of the Faculty of Applied Science Bill's name appears as one of the students passing with first class honors. This is the third successive year that he has passed all his subjects with first class honors in university records. In his second year, 1946-47, he won approximately $100 in bursaries and in 1947-48 he again won a similar amount.

In conversation with a local school teacher he stated that first class honors meant that Bill has passed all his subjects, probably thirteen or fourteen, with marks of 85% or better. This teacher stated that should Bill repeat his performance next year, which would result in his degree as it is a four year course, he would have accomplished a feat which is seldom achieved at the university, that of passing four successive years with first class honors. Such achievement would be quickly detected by large companies who would endeavor to secure such a student in their employ. In graduating from the high school Bill achieved almost the impossible by securing 100% in one subject and 99% in another, these being provincial departmental examinations.

PASSES AT UNIVERSITY WITH FIRST CLASS HONORS

Listed in the Gateway, official publication of the Alberta university, are listed the names of Miss Grace Pettifor, former Coleman high school student, as having passed her fourth year course in the School of Nursing with first class honors and Catherine Keltly, former local high school student, as having passed her third year course in the School of Nursing with first class honors.

1 teaspoon powdered herbs, salt, pepper, red pepper and mace to taste
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Pastry or biscuit dough

Cut veal and ham into thin slices. Trimmings from roast may be used. When baked, add a little well seasoned stock. Serve hot or cold.

The Lunch Box

The lunch carried from home requires thought in planning so that it will be satisfying, nutritious and appealing. The container used plays a large part in keeping the lunch in good condition.

The lunch box should be dust-proof, well ventilated and easily washed. Metal boxes have these advantages, and when collapsible they are easy to carry home. Some are arranged in compartments and are equipped with thermos bottles.

Baskets are not easily cleaned and unless the food is well wrapped, it dries out quickly.

Fibre boxes are cheap, but they are absorbent and therefore hard to keep clean.

Wax paper, paper napkins, paper plates and containers, paper or collapsible metal cups, thermos bottles and sealtight jars all aid in preparing lunches.

The container should be lined with a paper napkin and each article wrapped separately in waxed paper, and placed in the order in which the food will be eaten. Articles should be packed compactly so that the food cannot be shaken about.

The lunch box menu should be planned to include a substantial food, a juicy fruit or vegetable, a simple dessert and a beverage.

Sandwiches, which are usually included, should be made from day-old bread, which may be Graham, whole wheat, rye, rolls or white bread.

In cutting the bread, arrange the slices so that they will fit together. Cream the butter or butter substitute until soft enough to spread easily. The butter tends to prevent a soft filling from making the bread soggy.

Veal Birds

1 1/2 pounds veal steak
1/2 cup flour
2 tablespoons fat
1/2 cups boiling water
Wipe veal and trim off fat; cut into 6 pieces of uniform size; spread each piece with stuffing, roll and fasten with tooth-picks. Roll the birds in part of the flour and brown in melted fat. TOO OLD TO APPRECIATE

By HANK MCCALL

SALLY GIBSON had been raised in a gentle home, but her mother was unfit to hear as she scowled at the white wake of a fast-moving speedboat. She flipped her tiller overboard, ducked under the boom, and swung her catboat into another tack. Once steered on her new course, she squeezed salt water out of her hair and brushed the brine off her long brown legs and bathing suit. The rigger had doused her with a solid sheet of foam.

"The fool," she growled, "there ought to be a law to keep such clowns off the water. My zosh, here comes another one!"

A black speck spouting white wings was skipping down the channel seemingly headed straight for her. She kept her eyes on it determined not to get another ducking. In the meantime the boy in the first boat had turned around and was skimming back to give her a second shower. It wasn't every day a good-looking girl was caught alone in the middle of the channel.

Sally, unaware of the approaching attack from her stern, focused on the new menace. The boat whizzed by within five yards. As she turned to shake her fist, her eyes glimpsed the returning sport. It was too late to do anything. The original tormentor was on her neck. He was aiming to pass at six inches. Then there was a splintering crash. Sally arched through the air screaming, "Watch out!"

She tumbled up clear of her wrecked hull, swam over to it, and held on while her breath came back. She saw the sleek mahogany inboard nosed into the water as it slowed to swing back for a rescue.

A life ring splashed beside her. She heard a voice, "You all right?"

"I don't know. Get me out of the water."

The grinning face of a tanned young man peered down. Her temper snapped.

"Don't you laugh at me. I'm going to put you in jail, you—"

Her tears cut her off. She felt a strong grip under her shoulders and then the varnished deck beneath her. For several seconds she lay there sobbing.

"I'm awfully sorry, honest. I didn't mean to—"

Sally regained her self-control. "You better be sorry. Don't stand there gawking, get a line on my boat before it sinks."

"It won't sink. Sit down, I'll get it."

He took in the sail, bubbling to himself. "What a courageous creature! What an introduction! If I can only smooth this over, big brother Roger's eyes will pop out of his head. The life secured he turned to Sally and said, 'We'll tow it back to our landing and bail it out. Say, you must want my name. I'm Bill Henson. I'm staying at my brother's cottage. This is his boat, by the way.'"

"I don't care whose boat it is. You're the man who hit me and you're the man who's going to pay."

"Don't look at me in that tone of voice. I'm just a poor student on a vacation. My brother's the only one in the family with any money. You'll have to talk to him."

"You certainly are a fine one. Your brother didn't hit me, you did. I suppose it was all his fault."

Bill grunted and held the tow line away from his propeller as he eased around to head up the channel. Then turned to his passenger.

"Don't get there and sulk. The damage is done, you're not hurt. Roger will fix everything, so we may as well be friends. What's your name, Miss Fireball?"

"Sally Gibson. The damage is done! Look at the ruts in my sail. And the hull, I hate to think of all the holes in it. I hope your brother has enough money to buy me another boat. If he doesn't, off to jail you go."

"Money! Roger is made of money. He's been making it for years, never even took time off to get married or go to college. He'll fix everything, don't worry."

"They have asylums for lunatics like you. You'd be at home there."

"Don't be so bitter. I was just trying to have fun. You'd have gotten a big thrill if that wave hadn't knocked me into you."

"Oh, so it was a wave! Not your fault at all. You're going to have a hard time proving that!"

The sun was setting as Bill steered for a private dock. In the background a green lawn spread out to a trim white cottage. A white pebble walk led up to its porch.

"Here we are. That looks like Roger fishing on the dock. He's not going to like this, too old to appreciate a little fun in its porch."

A tall lean man of about thirty looked them over closely, frowned at the half-submerged tow. "What kind of trouble are you in now, Bill?"

"Aw, Roger, don't get riled. I just had a little accident. This is Miss Sally Gibson."

Roger made Sally sit down and explain matters. Bill went off to haul up the boat. Sally found it astonishingly easy to make her case with the older brother, whom she found pleasant and understanding. They reached a generous agreement over the repairs and walked down to the beach where Bill was struggling.

Bill announced, "Doesn't look like much damage. It's really getting too dark to tell much. I'll run you home now, Sally, and tomorrow afternoon I'll come back for you. We can settle this business and then go for a real boat ride. How does that sound?"

It was about three o'clock when Bill strapped up to the Gibson home. Miss Gibson himself answered the door.

"Hello. I'm Bill Henson. Is Sally in?"

"No, son, she went for a speed boat ride. Look, there she goes now."

"In that boat? Why, that's my brother! Say, who's that guy she's snuggled up to?"

Mr. Gibson took a long puff on his pipe and smiled. "Well, son, I'd say that must be your brother."

New Brunswick Uses Unique Balloting Plan

FREDERICTON.—The system of balloting used in the June 28 New Brunswick general election is believed unique in Canada.

Each party prints ballots containing only the names of its own candidates; or a voter can use a blank piece of paper supplied by the returning officer.

When a voter enters the polling place he is handed one party-printed ballot by each party contesting the seat. He is also given an initialed envelope by the returning officer.

The voter enters the booth, marks the ballot of the party he wishes to support by placing the usual "X" after each of the party's candidates in the riding, and places it in the envelope. He does not seal the envelope.

The returning officer examines the envelope to make sure it is the one furnished by him. Then, in the presence of the voter, he drops it into the ballot box.

If a voter requests it, the returning officer will furnish a blank slip on which the voter may write or letter the names of candidates for whom he wishes to vote.

When the ballots are being counted, any envelopes containing more than one ballot is classed spoiled and all ballots in the envelope are invalid.

If he wishes, however, a voter may strike out any name appearing on the party ballot and write in the name of another candidate.

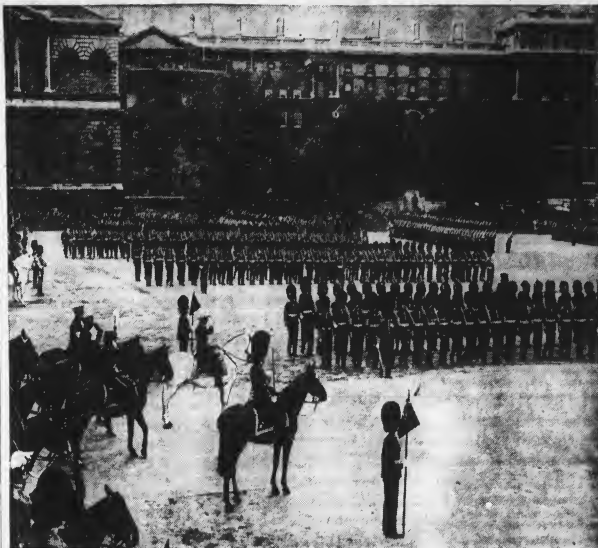

In this way, a voter may use a party ballot but vote for members of another party or split his vote. Thus, in a riding where there are four candidates, a voter could vote for two on the party ballot, strike out the remaining two and add the names of the two candidates of another party.

If he adds the name of a person not nominated as a candidate or adds more candidates than there are members to be elected in the riding, the ballot is spoiled.

BRITAIN'S NEW ALUMINIUM CAR IS LOW PRICED

LONDON.—Britain's first factory-produced all-aluminum minicar is ready. On Britain's standard gas ration, which gives a 90 mile a month mileage for ordinary cars, this small three-wheeler will give two adults and a child 300 miles of pleasure motoring. Gas consumption is over 100 miles to the gallon. This machine hums along the road at a comfortable thirty and climbs gradients 1 in 4 with ease. Maximum speed is 40. Total weight of the car is under 200 pounds and the overall length is eight feet. Running costs are almost nil, because there's nothing to go wrong. This runabout will certainly be popular in Britain where the gas ration is small. The price will be popular too. It rates $500.

An unweathervan form of DDT was invented in 1947 with excellent form-fitting properties.

LONDON SEES GUARDS IN SCARLET AND BEARSKINS AGAIN—Rependent in pre-war scarlet, white and black uniforms, famed British Guards regiment gave London its most colorful show of the year when the traditional trooping of the color ceremony took place. In full dress uniform, Guards marched past the saluting base. Representatives of the King and Duke of Gloucester took the salute.

HOME ECONOMICS INSTRUCTOR SAYS 88¢ A DAY CAN PROVIDE NOURISHING MEALS

DAVIS, Calif.—A housewife with a caloric-conscious eye and a firm grip on her pocketbook can produce three nutritious meals a day for 88 cents.

Miss Laura Morse, home economics instructor of the University of California College of Agriculture, says it's so, despite soaring prices.

But, if the housewife thinks only of the pennies saved and ignores the nutritious lost, her 88 cents will provide a diet far short of a person's food needs, Miss Morse maintains. The chart lists other delectables besides fried liver and prune whip, she adds hopefully.

TRAPPER FOUND BEAVER A VERY GOOD PARTNER

THE PAS, Man.—Of interest to residents of Thicket Portage, the centre of Manitoba's revitalized beaver industry, is the report of last summer's study by J. B. Nash, University of Manitoba biologist, who described a strange engineering partnership between a trapper and his beaver.

The trapper was the late Joseph Hermansky, who died suddenly last fall. Mr. Nash describes how Mr. Hermansky built portions of a dam on his trap line on MacLaren's Creek during the day, and the beaver finished his work each night.

So closely did the trapper and the beaver work together that Mr. Hermansky finally built just the heavy cribbing portions of the dam, confident that next morning all the chinking and filling would be done by the beaver. The plan worked and the dam still stands.

Your Fruit will make
50% MORE Jam or Jelly
WITHOUT RISK OF FAILURES
if you use CERTO

It's simply wonderful... the difference in jam and jelly-making when you use Certo. You get jams and jellies that look better, taste better, are better... and much more of them. That's because Certo is "fruit pectin"—the natural substance in fruit that makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell"—extracted and refined ready for your use.

THE CERTO BOIL IS SO SHORT

With Certo you boil only one-to-two minutes for jams—a half-minute-to-a-minute for jellies. No prolonged, tedious boiling to make sure your jam or jelly will set. Certo makes all fruits set "just right". This extremely Certo short boil means:

- 1 You get 50% more jam or jelly because practically none of your precious fruit juice is boiled away.
- 2 The time you spend is cut down to a fraction.
- 3 The natural colour and taste of the fresh fruit are retained. The Certo boil is too short to dull the one or spoil the other.

If you are only a beginner, don't worry. You'll have no failures if you follow exactly the recipes provided with Certo. Since different fruits need different handling, there's a separate, kitchen-tested recipe for each one.

BE ECONOMICAL—BE SMART—MAKE JAM AND JELLY THE QUICK EASY MODERN CERTO WAY. ASK YOUR GROCER FOR CERTO TODAY.

A pound of jam or jelly made with Certo contains no more sugar than a pound made the old, long-boil way.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

OTTAWA SHOULD TAKE HEED

Hospital secretaries are today at their wit's end trying to keep their hospitals fully staffed. The shortage of nurses is still acute and it is going to require several more years before sufficient nurses are trained to alleviate the situation.

It has got to the point where the secretaries have literally to beg on bended knee, the married women with nursing training to come and help with nursing duties. Some refuse outright while others as a personal favor to the secretary or his board, consent for a brief period of a few weeks or a month.

The real reason for the married women hesitating to help is due to the fact that Ottawa only permits them to earn $250 tax free. Over that point the husband finds his $1500 married exemption tax shrivel for every dollar his wife earns over the $250 mark. We therefore can't blame the husband for objecting especially when he is left with the children to look after for hours on end or paying out good money for baby sitters and over and above that paying Ottawa increased taxes.

Ottawa could come to the aid of hospitals by writing special clauses into the Income Tax Act to cover temporary help or by revising the tax exemption figure of $250.

Mr. Abbott and his cabinet colleagues will have to realize sooner or later that their adopted policy of taxing Canadians so severely is a detriment in many respects to the normal functions of Society.

Bicycle Riding On Sidewalks

Sidewalks were constructed for pedestrians not for bicycle riders. The sooner the latter realize this fact the better.

Pedestrians walking home in the gray dark of evening or during the hours of darkness are given a scare when a cyclist brushes past them at breakneck speed on the sidewalk without warning lights or bell. The practice should be stopped immediately before someone gets hurt.

Fire Damaged Blaimore School Tuesday

Thought to Have Originated in Boiler Room; Water and Smoke Damage Might Be Heavy

At approximately 9 a.m. Tuesday smoke in the Blaimore school became so dense that teachers and students had to scurry from the building and investigation revealed that fire had broken out in the basement.

Since departmental examinations were being written by a number of students arrangements were immediately made with Coleman's principal David Hoyle to accommodate the students in the local school.

Blaimore school is an old building possessing no modern structural improvements. Firefighters were greatly handicapped in fighting the fire as they could not remain in the basement for any length of time due to the dense smoke. Hoses were allowed to flow into the basement for two hours before the firefighters could make headway.

The fire was found to have originated in the boiler room according to several of the firemen.

No actual flame was seen by bystanders, only smoke escaping from doors and windows. Smoke and water will have created the greatest damage it is believed.

Principal Don. McPherson stated he could smell smoke when he entered the school Tuesday morning. He went down to the furnace and found the fire on and the door slightly ajar. He closed the door and went upstairs to start classes as everything appeared normal in the basement. A few minutes after classes commenced the smoke increased in intensity until it forced everyone to vacate the building.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS
by

You'll find that you can gain prestige by letting other people know that you appreciate them.

If, for instance, someone says to you: "It must take a good deal of practice to do a job like that!", you feel pleased. And the person who said that would, in your estimation, be a man of unusual insight.

It follows that if you respond in this way, so will the other fellow. By making him feel that you appreciate something about him, you will go up in his estimation. Your relationships with him will be more cordial.

But—be careful to avoid sheer flattery. This is easily detected and will have the opposite effect. Say only those favourable things which you can say sincerely.

Of all the ways to show your family how much you think of them, none is more practical than an adequate investment in life insurance. It brings priceless peace of mind both to them and you. And it is an investment which is so readily made by regular, systematic savings.

CBC PRAIRIE STATIONS TO OPEN IN SEPTEMBER

Toronto, June 29 (Special)—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is planning to open its new 50 Kilowatt Prairie transmitters early in September. It had been expected to open CBX, Alberta, and CBW, Manitoba early in July but the company installing the transmitters has found that additional time will be necessary to in graduating from the high get the complicated high power equipment of new design fully adjusted and tested.

Although the official openings will not take place until early in September, it is expected that both transmitters will be on the air before that date in order to carry out necessary tests.

These new transmitting facilities have been under construction for some time. They represent the very latest refinements in design and equipment to assure maximum coverage and clarity of signal over wide areas.

CBK, the 50 Kilowatt station in Saskatchewan, will assure a full service of CBC programs to the entire Prairie region where previously only limited service has been available.

The CBC will take over station CKY from the Manitoba Telephone System as planned on July 1 and will continue to operate the present transmitter as CKY until the new high power equipment has been fully tested.

The CBC will also open higher powered transmitters at Toronto, and Chicoutimi around September 1. CJBC, Toronto will be increased to 50 Kilowatts while CBJ, Chicoutimi, will go to 10 Kilowatts.

Cubs Defeated Hillcrest Ball Club Twice

Won First Game 18-11 and Second 5-2; Marconi Makes Pitching Comeback

By virtue of 18-11 and 5-2 victories scored against Hillcrest Miners on Sunday Coleman Cubs brought their C.N.P. league record for the season to five wins and two losses. In the afternoon tilt played at Hillcrest the Cubs outthrew the Miners 18-11. Trailing 3-6 at the start of the sixth inning the Coleman club put on a scoring spurge which netted nine runs. From that point on they were never headed and Charlie on the mound for Coleman, was able to coast to a well earned victory against the "winless" Miners.

Yoho, leadoff man for the Cubs, scored five runs for the winners. For the losers Grant scored twice and was safe twice at five official times at bat. Jimmy, Cubs first sacker homered in the seventh inning to provide one of the features of the match.

At Coleman in the nightcap the Cubs edged the luckless Miners 5-2 to win a crowd pleasing match. "Frenchy" Marconi making a comeback as a pitcher, was very effective and limited the Miners to eight safeties and struck out seven opposing batters.

Johnny Quintillio, Hillcrest

moundsman, was very effective and when "yanked" at the end of the sixth he had limited Cubs to three hits and two runs.

"Wingy" Chan, Hillcrest reliever, yielded three runs in the seventh and this remained the margin between the two clubs.

The fine pitching performances of Marconi and Quintillio featured the match. Hillcrest turned in a brilliant fielding display and their improved hitting threatened in the eighth and ninth innings, but their rallies were cut short by Marconi's steady hurling and sterling fielding support from his team mates. Kovack, Cubs' speedster, demonstrated his baserunning to advantage in both matches.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Citizens of Coleman:
I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to all concerned for the lovely plaque and wallet that I received from you. It is something I will always value. Mickey Kovack.

Concrete Wall Collapses

The portion of the concrete wall separating the DeCecco property from Nez Perce creek on Third street completely collapsed at the week-end. When the wall collapsed it ripped a major portion of the fence fronting the lot with it and also much of the soil supporting a fairly large tree which is now bent at a steep angle.

Avoiding Tractor Trouble

Working on the oil is dusty work. Care in maintenance of tractors will avoid breakdowns due to excessive wear in dust-filled bearings.

By J. T. EWING

AMONG additional services planned by independent dealers when the new season is available, is that of farm servicing of tractors. Many farmers would welcome such a service, but until it is available adjustments and minor repairs must be left to their own experience and ingenuity. There is a right way and a wrong way to service any tractor to increase its trouble-free life.

Rain water or soft water should be used in the radiator. Lime deposits (scale) from hard water prevent the cooling water from coming into contact with the cylinder walls, causing excessive heating. Radiator passages will also be coated, preventing the water from being cooled by the fan, and may even prevent proper circulation through the radiator.

If only hard water is available, the cooling system should be flushed periodically with a reliable solvent. Commercial compounds are available for the removal of scale. A rust preventive or a little soluble oil in the water will prolong radiator life and increase efficiency.

Plugged Air Vents

Another cause of overheating is the plugging of the radiator air vents by dirt. A screen will partially protect the radiator, but it may be necessary to blow it out occasionally with an air or water hose. Hose clamps and the fan belt should be kept tight.

Because of dusty working conditions care must be taken to prevent dust from entering the cylinder head through the carburetor. If air entering the cylinders is dust-laden the dust will cause excessive wear of the spark gap. Too wide a gap causes misfiring on heavy loads. If the gap is too narrow the engine may die at low speeds. The gap should be adjusted by bending the electrode on the shell of the plug, never the one in the centre of the porcelain. Changing indiscriminately from one make of plug to another is not recommended. Tractor manufacturers have tested various plugs and know which ones are best for their particular engines.

Where it is desired to burn distillate or kerosene instead of gasoline, a change should be made in the type of plug employed. Where gasoline is the fuel, a "cold" plug is used, and when the fuel is distillate or kerosene, a "hot" plug is required. The "hot" plug is so made that more of the hot gases from the combustion chamber have access to it than is the case with the "cold" plug. This enables the "hot" plug to do a better job if igniting the slower burning vapors in distillate or kerosene.

Hydrometer For Battery

A hydrometer, preferably with a temperature adjustment scale, is needed for a battery operated ignition system. The electrolyte at full charge should read 1.280, at half charge, 1.225, and at discharge, 1.150. Battery terminal connections should be snug. Corroded or acid-soaked terminals may be cleaned with a solution made by dissolving 1/4 pound of soda in a quart of water.

Impulse Starter Trouble

In tractors without battery and starter an impulse starter is generally used in connection with the magnetos. It may give trouble because dust has got into it. All brushes on the magnetos should work freely, and

Chinese Herbs On The Market

VANCOUVER.—Tiger balm or dried snake for those rheumatic pains and dried seahorse to keep down the blood pressure are on the market again.

K. H. Lee, pre-war owner of a large Chinese drugstore in Shanghai and his partner, Ko Sing, have returned from a buying trip to China to set up shop here.

Herbal and animal remedies used for thousands of years in the Orient are being dispersed. Deerhorn tonic for the blood, a herb called "ma huang", juice-of-all-ton wafers and dried turtles are in stock.

"Chinese medicines are mostly herbs," said Mr. Lee. Many date from the time of Emperor Hsuan Nung, 5,000 years before the birth of Christ.

Most are sold in bulk, and are leaves, bark or dried stems sliced crosswise. Animal preparations are neatly tied in papers.

Mr. Lee attributes China's freedom from the influenza epidemic in 1918 to these medicines, and points with pride to the long lives of his relatives who have been in the business for three generations.

His mother is 81, his uncles 89 and 85, and two of his grandparents lived to be 93 and 94.

Young Girl Overcomes A Serious Handicap

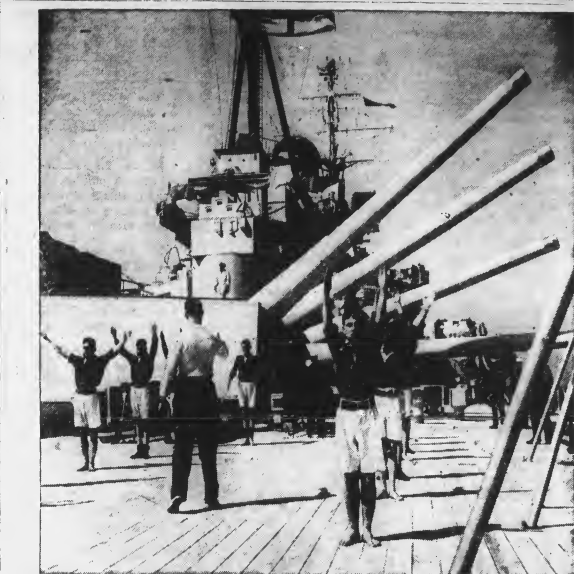

TORONTO.—Nine-year-old Eleanor Gidden writes, weaves, swims and plays with the gang—which would not be unusual except that Eleanor was born without arms.

A pupil at Wellesley School for Crippled Children here, the only orthopedic day school in Canada, she is an excellent student.

Eleanor talks rarely about her handicap but will discuss it in a grown-up way with persons she believes are sincere and not merely curious.

Sometimes people seeing Eleanor for the first time will express sympathy, but she reminds them of her special "guiding light", Kathleen Hart, born without hands and feet who is on her way to the front rank of Canadian artists.

Outdoor fireplaces should be at least 50 feet from the nearest building unless the buildings are fireproof.

BRITAIN'S FUTURE SAILORS TRAIN ON RETIRED BATTLESHIP.—The retired battleship, H.M.S. Anson now is relegated to the role of a floating naval school for the training of Britain's future sailors. Young lads form between 50 and 80 per cent. of the crew. Some of them shown here during physical training period.

TRUNK VERY SMALL BUT LEAVES LARGE

The jupati palm of South America has what the Encyclopedia Americana describes as the largest leaf in the vegetable kingdom. While the trunk of the jupati is only six or seven feet high, the leaves may grow 50 feet in length, with a leaf stalk often 12 or 15 feet long. Just the thing to fan one's self with on a hot summer day!

GIFT FOR PRINCESS

LONDON, Ont.—An unusual stamp collection was sent from London to Princess Elizabeth from eight-year-old John Westhead. The gift is 112 covers on the official stationery of every Canadian City and bearing the new four-cent stamp of the Princess. Most are first day covers.

Crows Did Not Know About High Power Line

CARLESDALE, N.M.—What the crows didn't know apparently didn't hurt them.

R. E. Tarleton said some crows built their nest on the crossarm of a power line pole. The pole carries a 2200-volt line to the potash mine where he is chief electrician.

After fuses were blown three times, Tarleton found the trouble. The crows had tied their nest together with bits of blating wire, short-circuiting the line. But he didn't find any dead crows.

TREE HAS EVERYTHING

Perhaps the world's most remarkable tree is the Moriche Palm of Venezuela. Its fruit is edible, the juice is made into beer, the sap into wine and the palm into bread. It provides thatch for fish-lines, cordage and nets. Its wood is good for building.
